

Table 2Guidelines For Setting Of Fees For Detailed Report by Specialist

Preparation of Medical Report based on patient information obtained from medical record without further examination of the patient	RM 200
Preparation of Medical Report; to include the patient's current status and opinion on patient progress where further examination of patient is required.	RM 400
Preparation of Medical Report; to include the patient's current status and opinion on patient progress where examination of patient will need to be repeated.	RM 600
Preparation of Medical Report; to include the patient's current status and opinion on patient progress where patients need to be hospitalised for evaluation, observation and further investigation before an expert opinion can be obtained.	RM 800
Preparation of Medical Report; to include the patient's current status and opinion on patient progress and the results of the investigation, report or opinion from the referred the hospital, where patient had to be referred to another hospital for further care before an expert opinion can be obtained.	RM 1000